The Baltimore visitors will be met at the Botanical Gardens by Mr. Freemen, president of the Washington association, and others. The club numbers about sixty members. Superintendent Smith of the Botanical Gardens said this morning that the Baltimore club was in its third year. This was one of the first excursions given by the club, and he thought it would lead to future excursions of a like character. At 1 o'clock the club will dine at Mades' Hotel, after which it will resume its tour of inspection. The club will be under the command of Captain J. Pentland. An explosion of dynamite occurred at the new park, Wellsville, N. Y., at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, instantly killing Thomas Prentice and Patrick Rooney, and seriously injuring Henry Milback. The men were engaged in destroying old trees and stumps with dynamite cartridges, when one of the cartridges exploded prematurely. A pionic was in the park at the time, and it is miraculous that none were injured, as several pleasure-seekers were in close proximity when the accident occurred.

The Career of "Monte Carlo" Acros the Long Bridge Ended. The career of the "Monte Carlo," at the south end of the Long Bridge, has been cut short. This has long been the resort cut short. This has long been the resort for gamblers from the District of Columbia for years, and especially on Sundays. The place has become so notorious of late, through the large stakes that have been won and lost there and the serious consequences following, that Governor Lee decided to take action. Major Moore was requested to assist the Virginia authorities and he detailed Private S. J. Block, who has had a wide experience in gambling cases, to assist the Commonwealth.

The authorities state that a number of Washington young men and some business men have gotten themselves into serious difficulty at Jackson City by their losses. One business man recently lost 45 450.

There were also two policy firms doing business on the Virginia side of the river, and the backers were tried yesterday and fined heavily by the Alexandria authori-

BASEBALL SMALLTALK.

Good enough. The joint committee on playing rules have by a unanimous vote unended paragraph 8 of joint rule 65 by inserting after the words "wild pitches" the words "bases on balls." The effect of this amendment is to take out of the the latter to be included in the summary, as prescribed by rule 65. This is only carrying out the committee's original intention of so classifying bases on balls; tention of so classifying bases on balls; for when last March in New York paragraph 7 was amended by adding that bases on balls, though summarized as errors, shall be credited as factors in earned runs, the committee overlooked the fact that paragraph 8 did not mention bases on balls in the exceptions excluded from the error column. Hence the present amendment is merely meant to correct a manifest error and cannot be cited as a precedent for a material change in as a precedent for a material change in the playing rules in the middle of a championship season.

A London tailor's dictum was that he could take a meal sack and make a suit of clothes worthy of a gentleman's wearing if the fit was right. Gentlemen have fancies in dressing. One goes for something showy, another expressly calls for a special weave, and so on. But the particular points of a suit are fit and style. Material and making may be ever so good, but condemnation will be swift if there be failure in fit and style. In these two points our stock of suits for business and every-day wear fulfills the highest ideals of dress; with due attention given to propriety of fabrics and perfectness of making, and, above all, with the wit of the clothier-his handiwork-shining at its brightest, in the tone of fashion reigning in them, impalpably, distinctly stamping them as stylish and faultless in fit. We extol these less highly than a gentleman would in examining them. They are readymade, and at prices of ready-made. You'll be likely to think them above the average of custom work when you
